BSU RADIOLOGY SCIENCE STUDENT AWARDED SCHOLARSHIP BY PRIMARY HEALTH MEDICAL GROUP

Boise, March 19, 2010 – Primary Health Medical Group has awarded a scholarship to a local Boise State University Radiology Science Student. Students must be in the second year of the radiology program at Boise State University and have a grade point average of 3.0 or better to be considered for the scholarship. From those eligible for the scholarship, the faculty chooses a recipient.

Mr. Melvin Smith was chosen as the recipient for this year’s scholarship. Mr. Smith, a nontraditional student, looks forward to working in the healthcare field in the Treasure Valley after graduation. Primary Health Medical Group is excited for the opportunity to assist Mr. Smith with achieving his education in pursuit of his career goals. “It is our privilege to support a student in the Radiology Science program at BSU,” said Tracy Morris, Executive Director at Primary Health Medical Group. “We have found that the program has been an excellent resource for quality radiology technicians. And we are lucky to keep them in the Treasure Valley after graduation as a health care resource for the entire community.”

Boise-based Primary Health Medical Group is a multi-specialty medical group that was created by physicians who have practiced in Idaho for more than twenty years. The group sees over 200,000 patient visits a year through 11 clinics located in Boise, Meridian, Eagle, Nampa, and Caldwell. The majority of the clinics offer appointment family practice and urgent care services and are staffed by family practitioners, physician assistants and nurse practitioners. The group also has physicians in pediatrics, obstetrics and gynecology, dermatology, occupational medicine, and ear, nose, and throat.
